A beautiful, but deadly sight greeted her eyes when A. H. Patzke opened the coffee can. But concern was uncalled for. The coral snake was dead.

Mr. Patzke, Rt. 2, Cameron, had just shown one of The Herald staff the colorful remains of the lethal coral snake he killed in his cattle pen last week.

It was the first coral snake killed in this area in about 20 years, Patzke said. He was sure it was the coral snake and not its harmless counterpart, a snake having the same brilliant orange, yellow and black markings in a different sequence of rings. Mr. Patzke had checked the encyclopediae.

Incidentally the coral snake is the deadliest snake in North America and one of the most poisonous snakes in the world, ranking somewhere behind the cobra.

A news release from a motor scooter manufacturer makes us wonder if our postmen won't be making their daily rounds on scooter rather than on foot.

Known as "Mailsters," about 1,501 of the units are already in use around the nation. And new units, much improved, says the manufacturer, are going to post-office personnel.

It's another sign of the vast change underway on the scene of day-to-day American life. First goes the iceman, then the milkman and now the walking postman.

Reputed to bloom every 100 years, Cooper stated that the plant had been in his yard about 20 years and was not more than 4 feet high until this summer when it started growing about 6 inches a day. Construction Begins On Cameron Armory

Construction was started last week on the National Guard Armory in Cameron. Crews of the Coffield Construction Company of Rockdale, low bidder on the $110,000 structure, began moving in equipment and bulldozing off the site.

The Armory is being built for the use of Battery C, 649th Anti-aircraft Artillery Battalion, Milam County's National Guard unit.

Plans call for the new building to measure 108 feet wide by 116 feet in length. It will be constructed of reinforced concrete and tile and with face brick across the front and around window and door openings.

The interior will be divided into a large drill hall, store rooms, supply rooms, offices and class rooms.

Plans also specify other improvements, including sidewalks, a flagpole and a large gravelled parking space for vehicles and the Guardsmen's automobiles.

Location for the new building is adjoining the vehicle storage building which has been used as an armory by Battery C for the past eight years.

Drilling Holes

Early this week Coffield Construction crews were drilling holes for pilings to support the building's foundation. The pilings are of steel re-inforced concrete and are approximately two feet in diameter and 22 feet deep.

Over a year ago architects for the Texas National Guard Armory Board drilled a number of test holes in a survey of the soil varying from 25 to 30 feet deep in order to prevent later settling of the foundations and cracking of the walls.

'A Rousing Success'

Thousands See Horseshow

Thousands of onlookers turned out for the fourth annual Cameron Horse Show's three attractions last weekend in Cameron.

President Charles McDermott termed the two-day event a rousing success in the vein of the 1957 show when officials rated the quarter horse show one of the top three in Texas.

The streets were lined with cars and people for the parade Saturday afternoon in downtown Cameron.

Texas Rangers led the 20-minute parade that included saddle clubs from Cameron, Rockdale, Temple and a number of cars and floats from car dealers and groups in Cameron.

The two-day quarter horse show led the events Friday and Saturday at Wilson-Ledbetter Park. A list of winners in quarter horse and show competition will be published next week.

McDermott said that some of the top quarter horse flesh in the country competed over the weekend.

The quarter horse competition had 22 categories for the nation's best. Three of the top 10 cutting horses were entered, McDermott said.

A grand entry opened the 11-event show at Yoe Field Saturday night. About 1,200 attended the Saturday show, officials estimated.

Officials of the Cameron Saddle Club extended their appreciation to the club membership and Cameron and Milam County residents in making the fourth annual show a success, McDermott said.

MILAM COUNTY'S

FARM SCENE

Agents Report

Farmers Alerted For Grain Sorgum Insects

By J. D. Moore, County Agent

Corn earworms and sorghum webworms have been reported infesting grain sorghum in several areas of the state. Control measures for these insects on grain sorghum are the same as listed last year. We have received no new information concerning the use of insecticides on this crop.

Toxaphene may be applied at dosages up to 4 pounds of active ingredient per acre with the following limitations. Do not feed treated forage to dairy animals or animals being finished for slaughter. Do not use on forage to be sold commercially or to be shipped interstate.

With these restrictions in mind, we suggest the use of 20 percent toxaphene dust at 15 to 20 pounds per acre or toxaphene emulsion concentrate (6 lb. per gal.) at 2 to 2½ quarts per acre. Insecticides should be applied late in the morning after the heads have opened at least 30 days before harvest. Many of the new hybrid varieties have open heads and insecticides may be applied in early morning or anytime weather conditions are suitable.

Clean Up Storage Bins

Grain should be stored only in bins that have been cleaned thoroughly of waste materials such as old grain, trash, feed sacks and other debris that furnish living quarters for insects. Sometimes it is necessary to "sweep down" the ceiling and walls and clean the floor to remove hidden waste. Cracks should be covered with builder's molding to eliminate grain collecting in them. Waste grain and other material beneath and near the bins should be destroyed.

Residual Bin Spray

After the bin and area outside have been cleaned thoroughly, spray with any of the following formulations at the rate of 2 gallons per 1,000 square feet of surface area. Larger volumes of spray mixture will be needed for spraying outside. 1. DDT - 2½ percent, or 2. Methoxychlor - 2½ percent. These sprays can be made by adding 2 lbs. of 50 percent wettable powder to 5 gal. water or ½ gal. of 25 per cent liquid to 5 gallons of water.

Cotton Insects

Boll weevil and boll worms continue damage to cotton fields even though repeated poisons are applied. Once late season poisoning is started, repeated applications are necessary until the crop is made. Farmers are warned to be on the aler tfor boll-worm infestation. If the bollworms occur in a cotton field and no control measures are taken, they will easily destroy the bolls within two to three days and nights.

Even though the expense is high, farmers can make a cotton crop with weevils and worms present if control measures are repeated on a 5 day schedule.

Low Calorie Melons For Summer Meals

Luscious fragrant cantaloupes open the melon season. Fitting into any part of a meal from appetizer through dessert, they are pretty as pictures, delicious in flavor and extremely healthful. An excellent source of vitamins A and C, they are also a good source of other lesser known but important nutrients. With all this, they are ideal food for weight-watchers. An average size melon contains about 75 calories.

Select vine-ripened mature melons for finest flavor and texture. There are two guides to help you make your selection; the stem end of the melon and the webbing or netting. Look for a slightly sunken, smooth, well-calloused scar at the stem end. This means the melon was mature and ready for harvest. It separated cleanly from the vine, leaving this "fingerprint."

The webbing or netting on a ripe cantaloupe is well-raised, coarse, dry and grayish in color. The background between the webbing should be light in color.

To store a cantaloupe, wash and dry it well, wrap it well in waxed paper, aluminum foil or plastic film and store it in the refrigerator. Experts say a cantaloupe should never be chilled by filling the cavities of the cut melon with ice. This dilutes the special flavor.

For a frosty first course, place ½-inch cubes or balls of cantaloupe in serving dishes. Pour iced ginger ale over the melon and sprinkle with minced fresh mint.

Add cantaloupe wedges to a platter of sliced cucumbers, tomato wedges and fresh green onions. It goes just right as salad with fresh garden vegetables – squash and green beans or black-eyed peas, for instance.

A fresh fruit cup makes a cooling finish for summer meals. Combine thin slices of cantaloupe, sliced fresh peaches and halved green grapes. Chill thoroughly, spoon into serving dishes and drift coconut flakes over each serving.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

MELON RING SALAD: Cut chilled cantaloupe into crosswise slices about one inch thick. Peel the rings. Place one ring on crisp salad green for each individual salad. Soften cream cheese with cream and season it lightly with salt. Place a spoon of the cheese in the center of each ring. Sprinkle the cheese with slivered toasted salted almonds.

Dry Weather Helps Cotton, First Maize Harvest Is Reported

Soil moisture was dry this week for all field work. Late feed, pastures and late truck crops would benefit from rain, but the dry weather is good for cotton and maturing maize.

County agent J. D. Moore said that corn was maturing in good condition and the first maize harvest was reported this week. He added that maize would be the farmer's best crop this year.

Young cotton is fruiting well in spite of weevil damage and livestock conditions continue to be good with grass and water plentiful and markets strong.

Moore said that cantaloupe and tomato crops are tapering off and the watermelon crop is moving although there has been a weak market.

"KUBISZYN BOUND For Majors" blared the bold headline atop Reading, Pa's Record sports page.

"Jack Kubiszyn will be in the major leagues in two years," Clyde McCullough is quoted.

So who is Jack Kubiszyn?

The inveterate baseball fan may recognize Clyde McCullough as the all-time Chicago Cub catching great. Therefore this Kubiszyn must be something special. But really, pal, who is the gent?

Few Texans ever heard of the mysterious young man but it is a rare Lone Star football fan not mildly acquainted with his father-in-law -- Baytown's Dan Stallworth.

Kubiszyn, one of University of Alabama's legendary athletic heroes, married Lucy Stallworth in the spring, ending Stallworth's long wait for a male heir to one of Texas' hallowed athletic records.

"The Cleveland Indians think the kid's really got it," beams the man whose football teams have won more games than any other Texas schoolboy coach.

McCullough, managing Reading s Class A Eastern League Indians, can not restrain enthusiasm describing the Crimson Tide grad. "He's one of the finest third basemen I've ever seen. He has a good pair of hands and he's not afraid of the ball. He can't miss being a great one up there."

Iron-willed Stallworth, whose teams swashbuckled into the state playoffs 12 times in 17 years, has never been known for sharing his affection for the game he helped to popularize.

But things are different now. His "boy" is headed for the major leagues, a hot-shot Bonus Baby.

GUY DILLON, Cameron's all-state fullback, spurned offers by Notre Dame and the Naval Academy to sign with the Texas Aggies. The 195-pounder crashed for 797 yards last fall, a 6.7 average, scored 10 touchdowns and managed 12 tackles per game ... Tony Zale, the old middleweight champ: "Today's fighters aren't one-tenth as good as the boys that were around 10-15 years ago .... Aren't those northern and eastern cab drivers the berries? Everytime a Houston sports writer leaves the state his copy overflows with gems dropped by the hack pilots .... Vociferous Rusty Koenig, one of the country's more talented softball players, has led an interesting life the past decade. First he was a rabble-rousing second-baseman for powerful Lake Jackson, with Lackland AFB one of his particularly choice targets. Rusty enlisted in the Air Force and four years taunted his ex-mates from Warhawk spangles. Now he is back playing shortstop for Lake Jackson and giving Lackland billy-heck in one of the state s top running battles of major softball ..... John Ellis, who wrote sports for the Huntsville Item, has moved on to the Abilene Reporter News ... Then there was the Beaumont lad who wrote a scorching letter to Silsbee Bee Publishers after his windshield was shattered by a flying baseball as she motored through town. The scouts are still trying to find the guy who hit the ball! .....Add to colorful Texas towns: Beat Five and Dime Box, near Giddings, and Cuckleburr in the proximity of Lockhart ..... Bubba Davis, Liberty's all-state guard of '56 would make Diz Dean drool. He's a homer-hitting pitcher for the Hardin-Liberty Independents .....In case Port Neches fans wonder what kind of coach the new Indian Chief Wilford Moore is they might mull this over. Lubbock High hired former Tulsa University head coach Buddy Brothers to replace him. Brothers is the fellow who's been coaching Bud Wilkinson's sons at Norman, Okla., High ..... Homer Norton, the Rosenberg-Richmond motel man, reminiscing upon the blackest day in his glorious coaching career at Texas A&M. "The day Texas upset us, 7-0, in 1940," he began slowly, "still remains the biggest case of over-confidence in the history of college football."

Your

COUNTY CLERK

I have always believed that a candidate seeking public office should run on his own merits and not on any demerits — often imaginary — of his opponent. And a candidate for re-election, as I am to the office of County Clerk, should stand on his record.

I am gald to stand on my record and performance in office.

One of the things being charged against me in this campaign is my long tenure in office — as if that is something to my discredit. The argument is advanced that I have held the office long enough.

What this argument amounts to, of course, is to say that anyone with several terms in office should be thrown out onto the scrap heap, no matter how capable or experienced.

Yet the voters, quite seriously, are being asked to do exactly that in this campaign.

It seems to me that my tenure in office is an asset It is proof that I have carried on the duties of the office to the satisfaction of you the voters over a period of years. Because, obviously, if I had not done so, I would have been defeated after one or two terms.

My tenure, I believe, has given me experience. And there is no substitute for honesty and experience. In industry, in business, the experienced applicant is given preference over the inexperienced. Why should it be different in political office — inexperience substituted for experience?

If you think my performance in office has been satisfactory to you, then I would appreciate your vote and continued support.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR EXPERIENCE

The losing pitcher was Jon Zelisko who was relieved by Judson Smith. The Bears collected 15 hits off the 2 Yank hurlers.

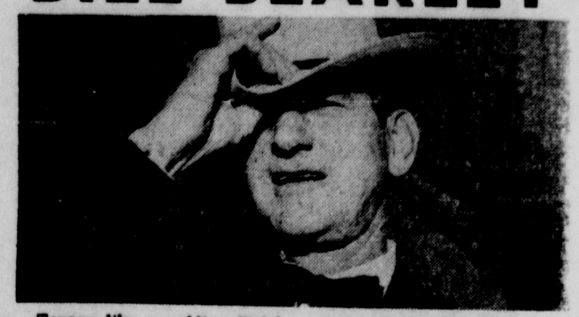
BILL BLAKLEY



Texans like a public official who is independent in his thinking and doesn't have to account for his actions to anyone except the voters themselves.

William A. Blakley is such a man. Of his race for U. S. Senate, the Port Arthur News says: "He entered this race by his own decision. He is beholden to nobody. He doesn't have to promise special interest groups anything and he wants to represent all of Texas, not any political splinter or fragment or faction above the rest . . ."

A vote for Bill Blakley on July 26 is a vote for returning to Washington a man who will truly represent Texas.

Mrs. A. W. Bickett

85 Year Resident Observes Birthday

One of Milam County's well-known citizens will celebrate her 85th birthday August 5. She is Mrs. A. W. Bickett, born 1873 just a few miles from her present home.

Active and interested, Mrs. Bickett makes frequent trips to Houston and Richmond where she visits her children.

She is the second child of the late William P. McDermott and Lenora Adelaide McDermott who were pioneer residents of Milam County.

She married the late Andrew W. Bickett about the turn of the century and for one year they lived on their farm north of Buckholts. Returning to Marlow they moved into her present home located 3 miles east of Cameron on Farm to Market Road 2095.

Mrs. Bickett was a charter member of the Marlow Methodist Church, and after this church was dissolved she placed her membership in the First Methodist Church in Cameron.

All five of Mrs. Bickett's children were home for a visit recently and honored their mother with an open house.

The refreshment table was covered with a white cutwork cloth over pink satin and centered with pale pink feathered carnations. Long pale pink tapers burned at each end of the serving table.

Party rooms were decorated with floral arrangements, all gifts of her friends. Mrs. Bickett wore a shoulder corsage of pale pink feathered carnations.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. T. B. Burnett; Mrs. S. W. McClaren, Jr.; Mrs. Bickett's sister, Mrs. Winnie Wittliff; her granddaughters, Mrs. Frank Fatheree of Austin and Della Ann Bickett; and her great-granddaughter, Beth Fatheree. Receiving guests were the hostesses, Miss Lenora Bickett, Mrs. T. R. Allen, Mrs. M. H. Eldridge, Mrs. Olene Hanson and Mrs. W. M. Bickett.

600 Milam Men Inducted Since 1948 SS Law

Six hundred men from Milam County have been inducted into the Armed Forces since the beginning of the 1948 Selective Service Law. The smallest number of inductions for any one year was 1949 when only one man was inducted. The largest was the year 1953, when a total of 157 men were inducted. The largest total inductions for any one month was forty-two during February 1952. Men have been inducted during every month since 1951, with two or three exceptions, according to the Milam County Draft Board.

Only six percent of total clerical hours is spent in actually inducting men into the armed forces. The far greater portion of the time spent by Clerical personnel involve maintenance of files of almost 4,000 Milam County registrants.

In addition to this Selective Service is now responsible for maintaining files of Standby Reservists showing with records the Military specialty of each Standby Reservist.

Plans were formulated several years ago for decentralization of the Milam County Draft Board records in case of an emergency. In the event that the size of the operation required it, two local boards will be formed in Milam County by dividing the present board. This would create Local Board No. 356 for the area North of Little River and leave Local Board No. 92 for the area South of Little River.

In addition to the present local board membership of five men, four men have been recommended for membership in the event decentralization is ever necessary. They are: Arthur T. McDaniel, Vote July 26!

There are 57 candidates running for public office in precinct, county and state races. This total does not include all of the candidates for justice of the peace in some county precincts.

Nevertheless, there are about 60 persons asking for election in the Democratic primary. They represent 60 reasons why all eligible voters should consider their choice of candidate in each race and vote.

Voting is considered a privilege. It is. But voting is also a prerogative that a free people must exercise. We have no right to question the selection of a candidate if we do not participate in that selection.

Therefore, The Herald urges all of the some 5,000 voters in Milam County to consider the candidates, all 60 of them, and vote.

We cannot but remember the tyrannical void of Russian elections in years past when only one candidate appeared on the ballot for each post. The Russian people at the point of bayonet turned out in masses to vote. How well they would enjoy the privilege of choosing their own candidates!

And how much it means for Milam Countians and all Americans to vote freely for candidates of their choosing. Voting is an inherent asset of the American people. Invest it well—invest it wisely. Vote July 26!

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Sage Ponders Year-In, Year Out Farm Legislation Program

Dear editar:

According to a lengthy, thoughtful newspaper article I read last night, there more than likely won't be any new farm legislation this year, and I was discussing this with some of my neighbors this morning and one of them said it was a good idea.

"That's fine," he said. "There's no use in passing brand new farm legislation every year. Don't hardly have time to get used to the one we got when they bring out another one.'

I can't agree with this idea. In the first place, it's unfair to the farmer, or rather it's unconsiderate.

As I see it, the farmer is just as important, if not as expensive, as foreign countries, and you don't catch this country trying to get along on the same foreign policy year after year, do you ?

I'm not saying the farmer is entitled to as many changes in the farm policy as the world is to changes in our foreign policy, which as I understand it changes on the average of once every day and twice on Sundays, but what kind of people would the world think we had in Washington if we wound up on the last day of December with the same foreign policy we started out with on the first day of January. The same thing even applies from Monday to Friday.

Anybody can lay out a satisfactory foreign policy on peaceful days, just as it's easy to have a satisfactory farm program when prices are high, the weather good, and you've got an unlimited market for all you can grow, but you have no idea how worrisome it is to lay out a foreign policy in the morning and have to change it by the time the evening newscast comes out. There's nothing wrong with our foreign policy, it's just that the rest of the world isn't made to fit it.

Washington has already seen that what its intelligence agents told it today can be one hundred percent wrong tomorrow, and a friendly dictator who took a hundred million dollars today with a cordial grin can turn up the day after with an empty pocket and a scowl. Naturally we've got to be able to change our foreign policy to meet such a situation, or otherwise we'd naturally be accused of being caught napping. A foreign policy that can't be changed every time we make a mistake would be one of the most embarassing things on earth.

The same thing is true with our farm policies. You've got to keep changing em, year after year, I m not suggesting day after day, or it'll only result in standardizing the confusion. Confusion isn't nearly as bad if it keeps changing.

We live in changing times, and we've got to keep our foreign policies and our farm policies changing too. Well, maybe times don't change really, but as long as Washington doesn't know it, and every day is a brand new one to it as far as what's happening in the rest of the world is concerned, you've got to keep hopping around.

Yours faithfully.

Capitol Report

John Q. Public Has Politicians Guessing

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN— Focus of interest in Texas this week is not on the State Capitol.

It's all over Texas, in a school building or a fire station or a church house -- wherever a man stands in a little pasteboard booth with a piece of paper and a blunt pencil.

In the booth is a man who looks like an average, un-important sort of guy. Chances are he's not very rich, not very interested in politics, as a rule. But John Q. Poll-Tax- Payer is the most important man in Texas this week. With a few strokes of his pencil Saturday he'll decide who'll be who in Texas for the next two years or more.

When John Q. glances down the ballot, he may see a number of names he's never heard of. He'll pause, scratch his head, wonder which name "sounds best," finally shrug, make a mark and go on.

Such a possibility gives office-seekers the cold shakes. For fear their names may yet be unknown to some, they'll try to be everywhere at once this week.

In addition, a lot of people will be pleading with John Q. to come back to the polling place Saturday evening for his Democratic precinct convention. Gov. Price Daniel, supported by moderate-conservative party officials, is asking him to come and vote for "majority rule." Opposing the governor are the liberal Democrats of Texas who want John to join their drive to assure that "only real Democrats shall participate in Democratic party affairs."

Nobody can positively predict what John will do. Past records show that some years he feels liberal; some years, conservative. And some years, both ways at the same time.

Oil Quota Up Again

Texas oil allowable for August will be 28,185 barrels a day more than for July -- a hopeful sign for an industry that's been "in the dumps" for more than a year.

Railroad Commission set next month's allowable at 2,978,058 barrels daily. Number of producing days will be increased from 9 to 11. Last month production rose from its all time low of 8 days.

Reason for the increase was not so much the disturbance in the oil-producing Middle East, said one commissioner, as the fact that Texas had finally reduced its excess oil stocks to correct levels.

Insurance Board Upheld

State Insurance Board finally scored a technical knock-out in its prolonged bout with an Austin district judge.

Texas Supreme Court ruled that Judge Charles O. Betts did not have authority to name V. F. Taylor receiver for insurance cases in his court. High court says the receiver must be the state liquidator appointed by the Insurance Board.

Board had appointed C. H. Langdeau as state liquidator. Judge Betts said he did not reagrd Langdeau as acceptable. He named Taylor receiver for cases in his court.

Supreme Court also ruled void Betts' action in raising salaries of liquidation attorneys working on cases in his court.

Division of authority between the courts and Insurance Department over insurance company liquidation has been a source of dissension for years.

50-50 Plan

State Highway Department will reimburse cities and counties half the court costs of securing land for state and U. S. highway building.

Up until last year costs of obtaining right of way were borne solely by local governments. Last Legislature passed a law authorizing the state to share the cost 50-50 with cities and counties.

At first this was construed to mean the state would pay half the cost of purchasing the land. Now it has been expanded to include half of court costs and appraisers' fees.

More Prison Cotton

An increase of 10.88 per cent has been ordered in the Texas Prison System's cotton acreage allotment.

Officials of the Texas system had been actively dissatisfied, contending the prison farms had been dealt a bigger-than-average cut. Less production means less money for operating the prisons, they pointed out, and hence, greater cost to Texas taxpayers.

On their behalf, the Texas Attorney General's Department appealed to the Agricultural Stabilization Committee and, finally, to federal court.

Adjustment obtained will mean 384 more acres of prison cotton can be harvested. It'll save $100,000 in tax money, prison officials estimate.

City Tax Proposals

City officials are laying plans to ask the next Legislature to extend and adjust city taxing powers.

Legislative committee of the League of Texas Municipalities has drawn up a two-pronged proposal to:

1. Allow cities to broaden their tax base and lighten the burden on property owners.

2. Substitute another tax to be collected at time of auto registration for the present "unworkable" property tax on cars.

My Fellow Citizens:

We patiently repeat that we rest our case for re-election to the office of County Judge on our performance and accomplishments during our 6 ½ years in office, and not upon slander, character assassination, and defamation.

It has been our principal purpose during the years that we have been thus honored to try to make our County — the County where we were born and have always lived — a better place in which to live. To that end we have dedicated our efforts; and we are not ashamed of the results.

Please take the time to go and vote; and we will appreciate your remembering us.

CHAS. C. SMITH
For Re-election to the office

County Judge
(Pd. Pol. Adv.)

That The TRUTH May Be Known

I seek election on my merits and qualifications. I want your support . . . not your sympathy.

In reference to statements made by my opponent in letters sent over the county claiming my present job paid more than the job I am seeking: Records of the Rockdale School board show that my present salary is less than that of county superintendent.

My election would mean a promotion for me . . . yet even so, I would not seek his job if I did not know in my own mind I could render a service to the schools and the school children of Milam county.

My desire is to serve you:

1. Through 35 years experience.
2. With ALL my time.
3. With concentrated effort to improve Milam county schools.

Childress Insurance Blends Know How, Long Experience

George Childress Insurance provides youthful insurance know-how with long business experience "on the insurance corner, North Houston at West First St."

Owner George Childress points out that his insurance business offers complete insurance counsel and coverage including fire, auto, and life insurance.

His associate, James M. Wiggs, represents Southwestern Life Insurance Co., an outstanding insurance service at Childress Insurance.

Major companies represented by Childress are the Aetna group, Hartford fire group, Republic fire and casualty and National Surety Fireman's Fund). His agency represents a number of other leading insurance companies.

Insurance Specialist

Wiggs, a specialist in fire, casualty and life insurance needs, has attended a number of insurance schools such as the Aetna school in Hartford, Conn. He recently attended a specialized school in Dallas sponsored by Southwestern Life.

"We strive for a well-rounded insurance service organization," Childres says. "We believe that the user of insurance can best be served when our personnel have a wide background in all types of insurance."

Childress also features auto financing and loans along with his insurance agency. He points out that he started out in the auto loan business in the early 1920's before many people felt auto financing was sound business.

"But now," Childress says, "everybody is in the auto insurance and finance business. We think our long experience puts us in good position to work out sound auto loans."

Childress started in the auto financing business with other partners in 1923. He managed the old Central Loan Co. which was liquidated in 1940. Childress maintained his own car financing after 1940 in the Citizens Bank Building, site of the loan company.

His present agency dates from 1940. Wiggs joined the agency in 1951 after graduating from Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos. He has a bachelor's in business administration.

Childress is a native Milam Countian, graduating from high school in Cameron and serving in World War I. He and Mrs. Childress reside at 1005 E. 14th St.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiggs and their two-year-old son, Jay and infant daughter, Lisa Gay, reside at 402 N. Central.

Wide Group Planning

"We offer any type of insurance group plan," Childress emphasizes, "which can be financed in monthly payments."

"Jimmy, and I work to keep pace with modern insurance trends and needs," Childress continues. "We believe we can offer as sound insurance counsel and coverage as any agency in Central Texas."

Childress asks that clients call Phone 3 for an appointment or drop in and discuss their insurance program with Wiggs or himself.

Fair Deal, Good Car Service Await Earle Pearson Customer

A fair deal and dependable auto service are the prime assets at Earle Pearson Chevrolet, Cameron's authorized Chevrolet sales and service dealer.

"We want the confidence of our customers, lasting customers," says Owner Earle Pearson. "The best way we know to keep customer confidence is with straightforward business dealing."

Pearson points out his first aim is honest, dependable service that continues long after the sale of a new 1958 Chevrolet car or truck or an OK used car.

Pearson has the service of a well-staffed Chevrolet agency to back his policies with competent, well-timed action.

Serving Customers

Larry Hackebeil offers service direction backed by 23 years in Chevrolet. And Parts Manager Joe Lee Heitmann, a native Cameronite and Yoe High School graduate knows his parts department, getting the customer the part his auto needs when he needs it.

Carroll Mclwrath, Cameron native with about 12 years of auto sales experience, joins with Pearson in sales presentations of the 1958 Chevrolet trucks and cars.

Working in the service department is Felix Marek, Cameron, specialist in powerglide and turboglide transmission work. He works with Lawrence Jetter, Cameron, Chevrolet school-trained expert in air conditioning and body work. And both men are highly competent mechanics who give careful service on any job, large or small.

And rounding out the Earle Pearson service staff are Joe Taylor, lube technician, and Oliver Blaylock, car washing and cleaning workman.

23 Years xperience

A veteran of 23 years in Chevrolet sales, service and parts, Pearson is also experienced in auto financing through GMAC and offers installment financing of reasonable repair bills.

Pearson offers additional service in auto insurance on all his new and used cars.

"We believe that our customers and friends will find new car and truck deals at Earle Pearson's attractive enough to save shopping around for better ones," Pearson continues.

Constant improvements continue at his agency at 100 South Travis, Cameron. He is adding repair equipment to increase the range of repair services available to Chevrolet drivers.

Pearson sells all lines of Chevrolet cars and trucks and has fine used cars.

New Cameron Offers Variety In Summer Line

Summer notions recommended to New Cameron shoppers include sun glasses, suntan oil, beach gear and many other items for summer vacation use.

"We maintain a fresh supply of anti-biotics and drugs that is as complete as we can make it," he continues.

Curtis, a graduate of the School of Pharmacy, University of Texas, has received national awards for his merchandising and pharmaceutical work from Rexall Drug Co., drug distributors. They include a plaque for outstanding merchandising in drug business and a copy of an ancient mortar and pestle of the early 15th century.

New Cameron's prescription service includes direct lines to doctors offices for fast, efficient prescription service when time is of utmost importance.

"We're continuing to study all the new developments in the pharmaceutical field to keep up with the expanding needs served by pharmacy," Curtis says.

TEXAS CHAMPIONS OF FREEDOM

DAVID G. BURNET

Protector of Liberty, Law and Order

Among the brilliant and daring adventurers who blazed their way through early Texas history the quiet courage, idealistic patriotism and statesmanship of David Gouverneur Burnet is all but forgotten today.

A native of New Jersey, 20-year-old David Burnet joined Francisco de Miranda's expedition to free Venezuela from Spain in 1806. Seven years later he followed the ideal of liberty into Texas .. ill with tuberculosis, lonely, destitute. Comanche Indians took him in, nursed him back to health and as Texas prepared to fight for her freedom from Mexico, Burnet the soldier and statesman was ready to play a vital role. It was he who drew up the resolutions for the separation of Texas and Coahuila. Three years later, on March 16, 1836 .. 10 days after the fall of the Alamo .. David G. Burnet was elected President of the ad interim government of Texas. He served until after the battle of San Jacinto, during the eight most turbulent months of the Republic. During that critical time he alone, by stubborn refusal to bow to a military rule, made possible the recognition of the Republic of Texas by other governments.

Today Texans still demand and get their right to choose the way they want to live. In this vigorous and freedom-minded homeland .. "Beer Belongs" and this is why the United States Brewers Foundation works constantly in conjunction with brewers, wholesalers and retailers, to assure the sale of beer and ale under pleasant, orderly conditions. Believing that strict law enforcement serves the best interest of Texans, the Foundation stresses close cooperation with the Armed Forces, law enforcement and governing officials in its continuing Self-Regulation program.

Outdoors In Texas

Congress To Survey Recreation Facilities

By Vern Sanford

Congress is undertaking a survey of the nation's recreational facilities, based on population increase and the vanishing frontier.

It will be a full-scale inventory of outdoor recreational resources. It will cover the entire United States.

Texas needs such a survey perhaps more than any other state in the Union. We are preparing to vote on a constitutional amendment, come November 4, which would permit the use of state funds for advertising our resources. Regardless of whether this amendment passes, we need an inventory of Texas' recreational resources, and then we need to build a program for developing them.

It would be easy right now to create a study commission to begin this work. The governor could call together the Highway Commission, the Parks Board, the Game & Fish Commission, the Department of Public Safety and others that have official status. Together they could make such an inventory and outline a program for developing our recreational areas to the fullest extent. Then, if and when an advertising program gets undreway, Texas will have more and more to advertise as time goes on.

Right now Texas needs more recreational facilities for its own people. And it must be remembered that our population is increasing nearly a million a year. With shorter working hours, and with Texas blessed with more days of the year when we can play in the great out-of-doors, our people can use far more facilities than we now have.

As a further example, we have more than 600 miles of true shore line on the Texas coast, with that many more covering the bays and outer shores of our islands. For years we have had the free use of much of this shore line. Today, however, fences are being built to shut off free access. We are industrializing our coast line. Also we are selling it off in city size lots with no plan for any future acress via highway or permanent park facilities.

Padre Island, for instance, is the last undeveloped hand sand beach left on the U. S. Coast. It is unsurpassed in its rugged beauty. It is under private ownership today, and is being sold off in lot-size parcels. Present large tract owners have agreed to deed to the State of Texas rights-of-way for a permanent highway the romplete length of the island, and sufficient acreage for public parks. There has been no taker for this proposition.

Yet the way Texas is growing and the manner in which our recreational needs are increasing, 10 years from now we'll pay fabulous prices for land on which to build a highway, and still won't have the public park areas we should have.

While we have all this at our finger tips Florida is spending millions building new islands in the Keys. They are dragging up sand and shell and hauling in top soil to make what we already have. Florida spends more on building one bridge than it would cost Texas to build this 120-mile highway. And as an accomodation to fishermen Florida has built catwalks along its bridges, where fishermen flock by the hundreds.

Floridans are not offered the free parks we could have in Texas.

There is equal grandeur all over Texas. In West Texas we have the Big Bend National Park, with a canyon that is different but equal in splendor to the Grand Canyon. Th esame is true of Viltoria Canyon in Hudspeth county. Visitors will pay from $10 to $25 to ride a jackass to the bottom of Grand Canyon. Few even bother to stop at ours. Reason: They are not adequately advertised.

Then there is Palo Duro Canyon in the Panhandle. It boasts very few visitors, yet it is one of the most interesting spots in the United States.

We have a fine system of lakes in Texas, where fishing and boating are unexcelled. Permanent access facilities have been almost completely overlooked in our lake development projects.

We are letting some of our hallowed ground grow up in weeds and some of our historic buildings go to waste. Take for instance old Fort Davis. There a few women are attempting to hold together and maintain the ruins of one of the most historic spots in Texas, without the assistance of any state group.

We are spending millions to erect marble-front buildings in Austin. Now, let's spend a little to help beautify our state and provide more enjoyment for our people and our visitors.

It is up to each of us as individuals, and through our collective organizations, to get behind a thorough recreational resource inventory in Texas.

You can help through your local chamber of commerce or civic organization. Join in the plea for such a meeting of minds. Write to the various departments mentioned here and send copies of your letter to Governor Price Daniel.

With his guidance we can preserve, protect and develop the greatness of Texas. Governor Daniel can take the lead in providing recreational resources for our own people and for the millions who will visit us.

And that's our outdoor plea for today!

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis and son Johnny are vacationing in Colorado this week with Mr. and Mrs. G. C. McCollum and daughter, Lerlene, of LaPorte.

Mrs. John Sheguit and son, Dale left Tuesday for Abilene where they will be guests of her family.

Mrs. George Childress accompanied her son, G., to Washington, D. C. for a short visit. She will also be a guest of her sister in New York before returning.

Another Cameron family vacationing in Colorado are the Edward Schillers. They plan to be gone about a week.

Dr. and Mrs. George Bowman and children will spend the weekend vacationing in Galveston.

BILL BLAKLEY

LAWYER • RANCHER • BUSINESSMAN

Candidate for UNITED STATES SENATOR

The story of Bill Blakley is the story of Texas . . . the story of how a great State rewards the initiative, the faith, and the unlimited vision of a man who is willing to work hard. Born on the plains, he was a cowhand at the age of 14. Coming home from World War I he got a job as a bank clerk . . . studied at night to become a certified public accountant . . . and then trained himself for law. Today he is one of the nation's most successful businessmen . . . a farmer and rancher of the first rank . . . and a distinguished lawyer whose pioneer spirit of independence finds close kinship in the spirit of the State and the people he now seeks to serve.

BILL BLAKLEY BELIEVES THAT:

"The right to work — and the right to educate your children — without restraint, regulation or interference — from government, or private associations and organizations — must be re-established, protected and maintained — if this Nation is to continue to be the land of the free."

"The time has come when the people must regain control of the functions of government."

"Neither labor — nor capital — nor any private association or organization — should dictate the destiny of the American people."

"Bill Blakley has made an outstanding success of his own business affairs, and is the man in whom we can have the greatest confidence during these world-wide crucial times. This is no year for political ballyhoo."

A Message To The Voters Of Milam County From HINTON H. PRUETT

Candidate for County Superintendent

During the past several weeks we have traveled over all parts of the county, talking with parents of school children and people in general and have found no criticism or serious objections to the way the schools of Milam County are being served by the County Superintendent's office. All of the complaints or criticisms we have found are coming from those who are politically inspired. To them, an office is at stake and of course, the end justifies any means.

The fact of the business is, the Common School Districts: Davilla, San Gabriel, Marak, Branchville, Maysfield, and Burlington who are directly under the supervision of this office are in the best condition of their existence. They are out of debt, except for bonds, and have a cash working capital. Three out of the six schools have new buildings which were built in the last five years and are fully accredited for the grades they teach. We have working out of this office; a full time Supervisor, Attendance officer, Librarian and School nurse. These people put in every hour of school days in the schools. A full time counsellor would have been employed long ago if we had had sufficient teacher units to justify one. There are simply not sufficient teachers in our schools to justify the employment of a counsellor and in addition offer the other services we now offer. The schools are in excellent condition except for a lack of children and even my severest critic has offered no solution to that problem.

When you go to the polls to vote, just remember the above facts. Also remember there are two men asking for the County Superintendent's job: One of them is very secure. Before announcing for the office, he had his School Board to hold his present job open for him in case he is defeated. Therefore, if he is elected he will in reality have two jobs. He can remain in Rockdale with a much better salary than the County Superintendent's office pays or he can take the County Superintendent's office with much less pay. His wife also has a teaching position in the Rockdale Schools.

I have no protection except in the election Saturday the 26th of this week. I have taught 41 years but at the end of this term which will be January 1, 1959, I will lack 58 days being 65 years of age which shortage will effect my retirement considerably, if I am forced to retire at that time. My wife has taught 34 years giving us a total of 75 years teaching. Does it seem to you that we are greedy or selfish in asking to be allowed to retire on full retirement when we are so close? We do not think it unfair and do not believe you do.

The only question for you to answer when you vote is; "shall one man have it all and the other man nothing? Shall an old employee who has served the people of Milam County all of his life be turned out with nothing, just so a politically ambitious man can have everything that can be imagined?"

When you go to the polls the 26th, Just Vote Fair and we will accept your decision.
